Rating report

Rating rationale

Rising general government debt: The public debt-to-GDP ratio has increased to record levels of around 82% in 2024, up nearly 17pps since 2019, marking the sharpest increase in the euro area. Despite significant consolidation measures, the debt trajectory remains on an upward trend medium term, expected to reach 93% by 2030.

Wealthy and modern economy, but modest growth outlook: Finland's ratings are supported by its wealthy and modern economy, which benefits from high human capital and a strong infrastructure in economic areas such as digitalisation and the environmental transition. While the economy proved resilient to recent crises, growth stagnated in recent years and is set to grow by a modest 0.9% in 2025 and 1.4% in 2026.

Net financial asset position: Finland's fiscal resilience is supported by the government's ample net financial asset position helping to shield government finances from the impact of an ageing population.

Outstanding institutional quality: Finland ranks among the top countries globally in terms of governance indicators and has a strong record of implementing reforms to enhance external competitiveness, improve the sustainability of the welfare system, and address labour market rigidities. The current government was elected in April 2023 and has focused its programme on strengthening government finances. Next parliamentary elections are scheduled for April 2027.

Rating challenges: i) rising public debt driven by high social and defence spending needs; ii) the country's moderate growth potential, constrained by weak productivity growth, labour market rigidities and a declining working-age population; and iii) financial stability risks, including those arising from the size of the Finnish banking sector relative to that of the domestic economy.
