

Italian NPL collections rose to EUR 234m in June 2022, 39% above the monthly average for the year and 38% higher than May volumes. Year-over-year, though, cumulative collections for the first half have been stable, just 0.6% lower.

June collections were 51% judicial and 49% extrajudicial. The share of extrajudicial collections was the second largest since June 2021, mainly driven by a sharp increase in note sales, which accounted for almost 21% of total collections. DPOs, which are generally the largest contributor to extrajudicial proceeds, remained relatively stable at about 28% of total collections.

This report shows the performance of a static universe of Italian NPL securitisations originated pre-Covid and rated by Scope. The report is based on monthly servicing reports available to June 2022.

Footnotes:

Figure 1: Six-month average (pre-Covid) refers to the average volumes registered between September 2019 and February 2020.

Figure 2: The variations in total proceeds (%) were computed comparing June 2022 collections with average volumes pre-Covid (i.e. the six months between September 2019 and February 2020). Based on their closing dates, the average was computed only for December 2019 to February 2020 for transactions nos. 12 and 19. The average drop was computed only considering those transactions with a negative variation, while the average increase was computed only considering transactions with a positive variation.

Figure 3: The % variation is computed comparing June 2022 collections with average volumes registered pre-Covid (i.e. the six months between September 2019 and February 2020). Based on their closing dates, the average was computed only for December 2019 to February 2020 for transactions nos.19,12 and for the period October 2019 to February 2020 for transaction no. 22.

Figure 4: The variation in judicial proceeds (%) was computed comparing February 2022 collections with average pre-Covid volumes (i.e. the six months between September 2019 and February 2020). Based on their closing dates, the average was computed only for December 2019 to February 2020 for transactions nos. 12 and 19. The average drop was computed only for transactions showing a negative variation, while the average increase was computed only considering those transactions with a positive variation.

Figure 5: DPO refers to discounted payoff strategies. The decrease and increase in DPO proceeds (%) were computed comparing June 2022 collections with average pre-Covid volumes (i.e. the six months between September 2019 and February 2020). Based on their closing dates, the average was computed only for December 2019 to February 2020 for transactions nos. 12 and 19, The average drop was computed only considering transactions with a negative variation, while the average increase was computed only considering transactions with a positive variation. Transaction no. 19 does not report DPOs as collection type.

Figure 6: The decrease and increase in note sales proceeds (%) were computed comparing June 2022 collections with average pre-Covid volumes (i.e. the six months between September 2019 and February 2020). Based on their closing dates, the average was computed only for December 2019 to February 2020for transactions nos. 12 and 19, The average drop was computed only considering transactions with a negative variation, while the average increase was computed only considering transactions with a positive variation.

Figure 8: "Pre-Covid (6m Avg.)" refers to the average pre-Covid collections registered between September 2019 and February 2020. The term extra-judicial strategy refers to both DPO and note sales strategies.

Figure 9: "Pre-Covid (6m Avg.)" refers to average pre-Covid collections between September 2019 and February 2020. The term extra-judicial strategy refers to both DPO and note sales strategies.
